Example (PageIndex{1}) If heating 10 grams of CaCO_3 produces 4.4 g of CO_2 and 5.6 g of CaO , show that these observations are in agreement with the law of conservation of mass. Fri, 08 Feb 2019 20:15:00 GMT 5.1: The Law of Conservation of Matter - Chemistry LibreTexts - Equations often require balancing to correctly demonstrate the law of conservation of mass. Students work in small cooperative groups to complete a laboratory exercise related to conservation of mass. Using vinegar, baking soda and a sealed plastic bag, students determine the mass of the vinegar and baking soda. When balancing chemical equations, the law of conservation of mass is also demonstrated. because the total number of atoms that goes into the reaction must be produced. So if 14 atoms are on the reactant side, then 14 atoms must be on the product side.
